

DEANO VASS

BROKER

Deano Vass has over 35 years of commercial real estate experience and deep insights into various facets of the industry including site location, leasing, managing acquisitions and dispositions and property management. His knowledge of North Dakota and, specifically, the Bakken area has provided ERES with an increased ability to provide knowledgeable, on-the-ground brokerage and real estate consulting to clients from all sectors in this challenging market.

Deano's experience spans many types of real estate including industrial, office, multi-family and residential. However, Deano has exceptional expertise with retail, restaurant and hospitality clients both large and small. He has driven site selection, construction, property management and general brokerage projects for local, national and global brand names both in and around Williston and in several major U.S. cities. Because of his hands-on exposure to the nuances of establishing retail branches in new locations, Deano is a sought after consultant for issues from zoning and managing municipal regulations to liquor licensure and construction challenges.

Deano is a licensed broker in both North Dakota and Illinois. He resides in Williston, where he is involved in many community associations.
